Thank you so much!

What a fantastic start to our Autumn Half Term 2 we are having at Woodhouse! Your children have been great in their efforts to develop their learning and build on the fine start which they made to the new school year.

Last week, we spent a lot of time thinking hard about remembrance and the incredible sacrifice and service given by so many people over the years. We particularly thought about the end of World War 1 and the incredible legacy of that horrific conflict. The children have been reflecting on remembrance and the poignancy of the poppy. Children worked as a whole school to produce a fantastic art installation of a giant poppy on the playground – using their books to create a much greater image together than would be possible on their own. In classes children have been creating artwork as well as studying and writing war poetry. We had a very special service of remembrance as a school on Friday. I was very proud of how sensitive, reflective and respectful our children were throughout the week. This week we have been taking part in the national anti-bullying week within school and next week we will be thinking all about democracy. The themes the children learn about through assemblies, collective worship and PSHE are key components to becoming effective citizens of the future. Why not have conversations with your child to discuss some of these themes together and share with them your knowledge and experience.

We have all enjoyed two wonderful class assemblies this week, from 2M and 5S. It was wonderful to see the hard work which had gone into preparing for a public performance from children and staff. Thank you all those parents who were able to support the children, it is very much appreciated. I am very grateful for the wonderful support from families which our school receives and thank you all for the effort you put in to getting the best for your child. You received the half termly curriculum newsletters this week, and there are a number of ideas of how you can support your child at home across the curriculum. If there is anything you would like support or help with, or if you have concerns please do speak to your child's teacher. We are committed to sustaining the strong partnership we enjoy with parents, which also means putting things right on occasion. Staff and leaders are always available to speak with you, no matter how minor the query.

I hope that you have a lovely weekend. Thank you for all that you do to work with our school and ensure your child meets their full potential.

Yours sincerely, Mr O Wilson – Head Teacher

Joke of the Week

How does the moon cut his hair?

Answer below

Anti-Bullying Week

This week at Woodhouse our focus has been on Anti-Bullying Week. We already have a strong ethos of anti-bullying around school and this is reflected in the positive attitudes of our children.

To mark the week, each class has revisited their anti-bullying statements and created a range of fantastic displays for their classroom doors that reiterates their stance on bullying. The overwhelming response is that Woodhouse says NO to bullying.

In addition to our whole school display, here are a few of our classroom door displays.
